

Nagoya University
International Program in Comprehensive Medical science
Nagoya, Japan

The International Programs of Nagoya University Graduate School of Medicine seeks to fill a full-time, non-tenure-track, Full Designated Professor / Designated Associate Professor position regardless nationality for research and teaching Graduate Courses in Medical Science. Our program is interested in recruiting a scholar with native or near-native English language ability, high research ability, education experience and enthusiasm about teaching and administrating the International Program in Comprehensive Medical Science as a joint degree program with the University of Adelaide, Australia. This program, which accepts international students from the University of Adelaide, offers the opportunity for graduate students to take coursework in English. It aims to foster qualified researchers in interdisciplinary medical sciences having research ability in both clinical and basic research work. The successful candidates will teach within our program offerings courses. As a full-time faculty, s/he will be expected to hold office hours, provide academic advising for students and perform the normal duties associated with research and teaching.

Position: Designated Professor / Designated Associate Professor

Expected numbers of position : 1

The place of work: Office of International Affair, Nagoya University Graduate School of Medicine

Possible courses the successful candidate will be expected to teach:

- Medical Science Graduate Program
- Special Seminar “Tokuron”
- Some Courses of International Program in Comprehensive Medical Science
- Administration and management of International Program in Comprehensive Medical science

Minimum Qualifications

- 1) Doctoral degree in Medical Science or a related field with teaching experience
- 2) Demonstrated ability to advise students at the undergraduate and graduate levels
- 3) Willing to participate widely in the International Programs of the university including but not limited to teaching courses to Japanese students and some administrative duties
- 4) Strong inter-personal skills and evidence of effective interaction with students, faculty, administration, and community
- 5) English fluency to effectively teach abovementioned courses

Preferred Qualifications

- 1) Experience working in a multicultural environment preferred
- 2) Japanese language proficiency is welcomed though not required

The initial contract will be starting 1 April, 2018, and terminating 31 March, 2023.

Salary:

Salary will depend on qualifications and experience, based on Nagoya University's Salary Rules for Employees to whom the Annual Salary System applies. *Taxes and insurances will be withheld from the annual salary.

Application Requirements

- 1) Cover letter
- 2) Full curriculum vitae - please include country of citizenship
- 3) Copies of graduate transcripts (unofficial copies acceptable for the application process)
- 4) Three letters of professional recommendation - written within a year of this application—with the referee's Name, Title, Name of Organization, Length and Relationship with Applicant, and Contact Details included (note: we will conduct reference checks for candidates who clear the initial screening)
- 5) One page statement of teaching philosophy, addressing the applicant's ability to integrate creative thinking and global perspectives into the courses taught
- 6) List of all publications and copies of up to five
- 7) Current and past areas of research

To apply, please send your complete application package to:

Office of International Affairs
Nagoya University Graduate School of Medicine
65 Tsurumai-cho, Showa-ku, Nagoya 466-8550, Japan

Contact Person:

Office of International Affairs
Nagoya University Graduate School of Medicine
Associate Dean
Hideki Kasuya, MD, PhD, FACS
E-mail: kasuya@med.nagoya-u.ac.jp

Please enclose the above documents in an envelope and write "International Program in Integrated Medicine" in red ink on the envelope. Incomplete applications will not be considered.

Application deadline: 23th October, 2017

(Note: Only those selected will be notified for further instructions.)

Educational Policy of Nagoya University's International Programs

Nagoya University's fundamental objective is to cultivate leaders with genuine courage and intellect. We call such leaders 'yuuki-arū chishiki-jin,' that is, individuals who are able to harness their courage, curiosity, and creativity to fully, yet responsibly, exploit their freedom with their educational and research endeavors. Its multi-disciplinary curriculum is designed to cultivate ethical leaders who are able to develop innovative solutions, through inquiry and analysis, with strong communication and teamwork skills to be productive members of the global environment. Nagoya University welcomes highly motivated educators who share this vision to apply.

About Nagoya University

Nagoya University is a comprehensive national research-intensive university in the heart of Japan. With approximately 16,000 students, of which 1,500 are international, Nagoya University is currently ranked 116 (QS world ranking). The critically acclaimed faculty of Nagoya University has won international awards including the Fields Medal, the King Faisal International Prize, and 6 Nobel Prizes. With the goal of opening up its departments to greater number of international students while helping to cultivate Japanese students who can thrive in an international environment, Nagoya University is currently expanding the number of programs that will be taught entirely in English. Nagoya University is located in the central Chubu region, one of the most powerful manufacturing regions in the world, with a strong concentration of major multinational corporations. The city of Nagoya is the fourth largest in Japan and provides easy access to Tokyo and Kyoto. The cost of living in Nagoya is relatively affordable, and the city boasts a vibrant culture that combines modern and traditional atmospheres, making it a stimulating and comfortable place to live.