

Nagoya University
Global 30 International Programs
Nagoya, Japan
<http://en.nagoya-u.ac.jp/employment/>

The Social Sciences Program (Law) in the Nagoya University Global 30 International Programs invites applications for a full-time, non-tenure-track, Designated Lecturer, Designated Associate Professor, or Designated Professor position in Political Science/Politics.

We seek a candidate who has shown excellence in research and teaching in Political Science/Politics. The G30 Program is known for its small class sizes, motivated students, and international atmosphere. The standard teaching load is up to eight courses per year. A course is generally comprised of 15 weekly lectures, each of which runs 90 minutes. The successful candidate will be expected to supervise students, provide them with guidance and engage in the admissions process. She or he should also contribute to expanding the international research profile of the Division of Politics in the Graduate School of Law.

Qualifications:

- 1) A doctoral degree in Political Science/Politics or a related field.
- 2) A demonstrated record of, or a clear path to, research excellence in Political Science/Politics.
- 3) A proven record of teaching. The post is open to anyone specializing in any subfield of Political Science/Politics. We particularly welcome applicants who can teach courses in Research Methods.
- 4) A demonstrated ability to supervise students at the undergraduate and graduate levels.
- 5) Willingness to participate in the International Programs of the university, including but not limited to teaching courses to Japanese students and some administrative duties.
- 6) Strong interpersonal skills and evidence of success working in a multicultural environment.
- 7) Japanese language proficiency is welcome though not required.

Term:

The initial contract will start in April 2019 and terminate in March 2022. Contingent upon job performance and funding of the Global 30 International Program, the contract may be renewable for further three-year periods to a maximum potential end date of 31 March 2029.

Compensation:

Salary: Approximately JPY5,000,000-10,000,000/year (all inclusive). Salary will depend on qualifications and experience. Taxes and insurance will be withheld from the annual salary.

Application Requirements:

- 1) A cover letter
- 2) A full curriculum vitae

3) A list of three referees with their contact details

Application Procedure:

All applicants should submit their applications via email.

All required documents should be sent to: nug30-apply@adm.nagoya-u.ac.jp

Indicate “No. HS31 (Name)” in the subject line of the email.

Please note that incomplete applications will not be considered.

Contact:

If you have any questions, please send an email to the address below.

Professor Hiroko Takeda, Center for Asian Legal Exchange, Graduate School of Law, Nagoya University

E-mail: h.takeda@law.nagoya-u.ac.jp (in English or Japanese)

Application deadline:

19 November 2018

(Note: Only short-listed candidates will be notified for further instructions.)

Educational Policy of Nagoya University’s Global 30 International Programs:

Nagoya University’s fundamental objective is to cultivate leaders with courage and intellect. We call such individuals ‘yuuki-arū chishiki-jin’. These people can harness their courage, curiosity, and creativity in education and research and can become both ethical leaders and productive members of global society. We encourage highly motivated educators who share this vision to apply.

Nagoya University is an equal opportunity employer. Applications from female researchers are encouraged.

http://en.nagoya-u.ac.jp/about_nu/declaration/positive/index.html

For more information:

<http://www.nagoya-u.ac.jp/en/>

<http://admissions.g30.nagoya-u.ac.jp/>