

Position Opening Announcement

1	Position	Associate Professor
2	Department	Department of International Development and Cooperation Studies at the Graduate School of International Development
3	Job description, etc.	[Job description (teaching, administration, etc.)] A successful candidate is expected to perform: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) a minimum of two lecture courses related to poverty and social policy in English; 2) seminar courses I and II (year-round) in English; 3) a lecture each for the courses on “An Introduction to International Development” and “Japan’s Development Experience,” both in English; 4) a lecture or seminar course in Japanese for undergraduate students (“International Development Studies,” “International Studies,” or “Basic Seminar”); 5) research supervision for master’s theses and doctoral dissertations; 6) supervision of the Overseas/Domestic Fieldwork Programs; 7) administrative work for the graduate school; 8) other miscellaneous tasks required by the graduate school. <hr/> [Location] Furo-cho, Chikusa-ku, Nagoya, Japan <hr/> [The number of position] One vacancy <hr/> [The day of arrival at the post] April 1st, 2021
4	Area of research	Large category	Social Science
		Small category	Area Studies (80010), Economic Policy (07040), Sociology (08010)
5	Job type	Full time <hr/> Tenured position
6	Qualifications	An applicant must have: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) experience in conducting empirical and policy-oriented research on poverty-related issues in the field of development sociology or international development studies; 2) a Ph.D. in a relevant field; 3) the capacity and willingness to teach and supervise students in both English and Japanese; 4) teaching experience at the university level in a relevant field; 5) a command of Japanese sufficient to handle administrative work. (There is no restriction on nationality.) 6) willingness to supervise the graduate school’s Overseas/Domestic Fieldwork Programs
7	Salary and benefits	[Salary, working hours, holiday, insurance, etc.] <hr/> Salary and benefits will be determined as per the rules of Tokai National Higher Education and Research System https://education.joueikun.jp/thers_ac/act/print/print110010928.htm
8	Application period	The application must reach us no later than on October 30th, 2020

9	Application, selection, and result notification	[Submission of an application] All application documents should be sent to Professor Sanae Ito (ito@gsid.nagoya-u.ac.jp) with the subject line reading “GSID PSP Associate Professor.” Application documents should include: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) a curriculum vitae. (The format is free. It should provide the applicant’s e-mail address as well as telephone number. The applicant is not required to specify one’s gender nor affix one’s photograph if one does not wish to do so.); 2) a list of publications. (If an applicant has won any competitive research grants in the past, please mention them here.) ; 3) copies of three publications (books or journal articles), including publications in English, if any; 4) a short essay describing how an applicant wishes to conduct teaching and research activities at the Graduate School of International Development (in approximately 1200 words in English or 3000 characters in Japanese) ; 5) a course syllabus for the fictional course entitled “Sustainable Development and Social Policy,” in both English and Japanese, each in one or two A4 pages. (The syllabus should describe the course objective(s) and structure as well as topics for fifteen classes in the course. It should also mention textbooks and other reference materials if any); 6) Names, telephone numbers, and e-mail addresses of two referees <hr/> [Selection and notification of results] <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) Primary selection: document review 2) Secondary selection: interview (either on-line or face-to-face) in November. The interview includes a mock lecture in English) ※ The selection committee will contact candidates for the secondary selection by either phone or e-mail. The method of the interview will be informed at the same time. <hr/> [Inquiry] Professor Sanae Ito The Graduate School of International Development at Nagoya University E-mail: ito@gsid.nagoya-u.ac.jp * Telephone inquiries will not be accepted.
10	Notes	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) The submitted documents will be used for the purpose of this selection only and will not be returned. 2) Transportation costs for an interview, if incurred, should be borne by the applicant. 3) Nagoya University will proactively recruit women if the evaluation of candidates in the areas of research, teaching, social contribution, personal integrity, etc. is deemed equal between men and women. If gender is not indicated on the submitted CV, we will ensure no disadvantages will occur in the evaluation process.