

(Job opening KMI-2024-2)
Designated Associate Professor
Flavor Physics International Research Center (FlaP)
The Kobayashi-Maskawa Institute for the Origin of Particles and the Universe (KMI)
Nagoya University
Nagoya, Japan

The Kobayashi-Maskawa Institute for the Origin of Particles and the Universe, (KMI), Nagoya University, was founded in 2010 in order to solve the fundamental mysteries of elementary particle physics and the universe and to develop a new frontier in physics by the collaboration between theoretical particle physics groups, experimental particle physics groups, cosmology and theoretical astrophysics groups, experimental astrophysics groups, and mathematical physics groups including string theorists.

The Kobayashi-Maskawa Institute for the Origin of Particles and the Universe (KMI) has launched the Flavor Physics International Research Center (FlaP) in April 2023, in order to promote international research and education on flavor physics, which is expected to make great progress in the 2020s. The “Tau-lepton Physics Research Center” in the graduate school of science has been developed and dissolved to join FlaP. The overview of KMI and FlaP and members can be found at <http://www.kmi.nagoya-u.ac.jp/>.

Minimum Qualifications

- 1) Doctoral degree in Physics
- 2) Excellent research experience in the relevant fields

Job Description

(Immediately after employment)

The successful candidate will be expected to collaborate with researchers in the KMI Flavor Physics International Research Center (FlaP) and promote the experimental research on flavor physics, in particular, the development of the muon accelerator and physics research for the muon $g-2$ /EDM experiment at the J-PARC facility. The successful candidate is also expected to participate widely in research by cooperating with other groups in KMI including theory, and also in administrative duties for KMI and FlaP (organization of seminars, workshops and conferences, outreach, etc.) as well as operation of the J-PARC center Nagoya University branch office.

(Scope of change)

Work specified by Tokai National Higher Education and Research System

Position

Designated Associate Professor

Term

Earliest possible date after the selection to March 31, 2025.

Recruitment is on an annual salary system, with the possibility of renewal depending on work evaluation, etc. (*Please consult with us directly regarding this matter.)

Total contract period: Up to March 31, 2028.

Location

(Immediately after employment)

Kobayashi-Maskawa Institute for the Origin of Particles and the Universe (J-PARC center Nagoya University branch office)

(Scope of change)

Work space designated by Tokai National Higher Education and Research System

Salary

Confirming to the rules of Tokai National Higher Education and Research System.

Application Requirements

- 1) Cover letter
- 2) Full curriculum vitae—please include country of citizenship
- 3) Summary of research experience
- 4) List of all publications and copies of up to three
- 5) Statement of future research projects and engagement in management tasks
- 6) Indication of the date available to start
- 7) Declaration of applicable specific categories (see Others 4) for downloading the form)
- 8) Two letters of professional recommendation—written within a year of this application—with the referee's Name, Title, Name of Organization, Length and Relationship with the applicant, and Contact details included (note: we may conduct reference checks for candidates)

The pdf files of 1) - 8) in Application Requirements should be uploaded via Academic Jobs Online;
<https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/25041>

Application documents can be either in English or Japanese.

Contact

Toru Iijima (ijijima@hepl.phys.nagoya-u.ac.jp), Chair of the Flavor Physics International Research Center (in English or Japanese Language)

Application deadline

August 19 (Monday), 2024

Others

- 1) Nagoya University is an equal-opportunity employer. Applicants from female and non-Japanese researchers are encouraged.
- 2) Submitted information will be used only for the purpose of this selection.
- 3) KMI will not bear your travel expenses to Nagoya University for any reason during this selection.
- 4) In November 2021, in accordance with the clarification of the scope of control for “deemed exports” under the Foreign Exchange and Foreign Trade Act (“FEFTA”), some provision of sensitive technology to faculty members and students by universities and research institutions has become subject to control under the FEFTA. Consistently with this change, when applying for faculty positions or to study at the University, faculty, staff, and students will be required to submit a “Declaration of applicable specific categories” based on the “Flowchart for determining applicable specific categories.” Faculty, staff, and some students will also be required to submit a “Letter of confirmation” at the time of their recruitment or admission.
